

20 off-the-grid getaways

AFAR.com Published 3:55 am, Saturday, December 6, 2014

If you're just looking for a relaxing vacation with a cocktail on the beach, read no further. These off-the-grid getaways are challenging experiences that will test your adaptability, leaving you with a heightened and renewed sense of being. From finding a cozy spot in Big Sur's "human nest" to settling into an electricity-free hotel in Thailand, these destinations will placate the adventurous spirit in you.

These recommendations come from AFAR.com: "20 Off-The-Grid Getaways"

Photo: Courtesy Of Camp Orenda

IMAGE 9 OF 21

Camp Orenda, New York

This family-owned retreat within Adirondack State Park is geared toward campers who want comfort. Adirondack chairs (of course) sit on the decks of five canvas tents equipped with wood-burning stoves and cedar-lined showers... (Read more) —Jen Murphy