Jason McKibben - jmckibben@poststar.com David Webb enters one of Camp Orenda's canvas tents to add wood to the stove so his clients can return after their meal to a warm tent Saturday, October 22, 2011. Webb just closed the full service camp for the season after a successful first year of operation. The experience includes locally sourced gourmet meals cooked on an open flame, canvas tents equipped with wood stoves and linens, and guided Adirondack adventures.
