

Honeymoon Glamping: 7 Breathtaking Getaways Across North America

🕒 04/28/2014 04:08 pm ET | Updated Jun 28, 2014

Interested in camping out under the stars, but not too keen on pitching a tent and sleeping on the ground? Now imagine that your camping quarters featured a king bed with luxury linens, heated wood floors, deep soaking tub and expansive mountain views. Sounds a lot more like honeymoon heaven, right?

Thanks to one of the hottest trends in the eco-boutique segment of the hotel industry, newlyweds can now choose from a multitude of glamping opportunities all over the U.S. and Canada. Below, we've highlighted seven upscale resorts that offer a most memorable — and comfortable — honeymoon getaway.

Camp Orenda (Johnsburg, New York)

Newlyweds sticking to the East Coast can now find a luxury camping experience in their neck of the woods. Camp Orenda, set in the heart of Adirondack State Park, features spacious canvas cabins furnished with Adirondack (naturally) furniture, wood-burning stoves and comfy queen beds.

Couples can also expect a memorable stay with amenities like open flame fireside dining and farm-to-table cuisine. Meanwhile, get ready for unforgettable days spent kayaking, fishing, and zip lining before returning to super cozy accommodations.