

Adirondack summer getaways for outdoor adventure

View full size

Camp Orenda in Johnsbury offers Adirondack Glamping at its finest

Camp Orenda

Whatever your favorite thing is about summertime - sitting by the lake, tent pitched nearby with a good book and cold drink in hand, careening down a mountain on knobby tires, or casting a line over a sunny stream deep in the mountains - the Adirondack Region of Northern New York can be your respite, your getaway and your perfect summer day.

View full size

The Barkeaters Trail Alliance maintain and create mountain biking trails around the Adirondacks

Barkeaters Trail Alliance

For the wanna-be campers: You're into communing with nature, but you don't own a tent. Or you do, and it's older than you are and emits an odor reminiscent of damp canvas and years of accumulated bug spray.

Here's what you do: Camp Orenda in the Lake George area just north of Albany holds a corner on the market for easily accessible Adirondack glamping, a luxurious, yet affordable, camping experience for the whole family. These guys go above and beyond, and guests stay in sumptuously furnished canvas wall tents, enjoy gourmet meals, unlimited entertainment and recreation opportunities, and have use of the camp's not-so-rustic Bath House and showers. Rates start at $100 per night.